Garden Bench

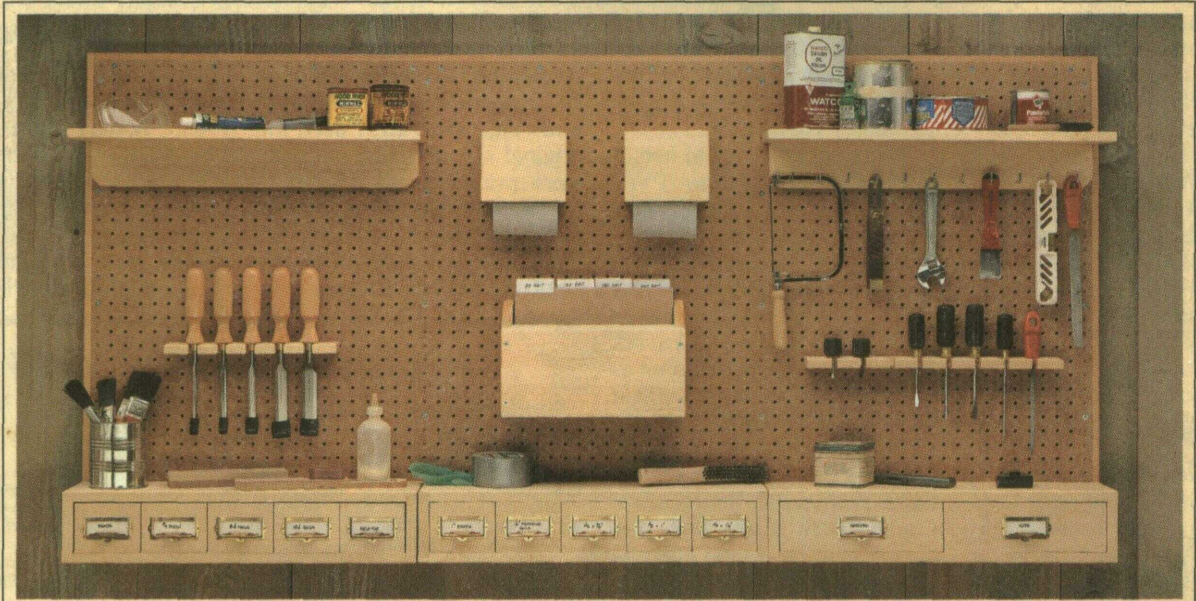

A This Bench is strong but light. Mortise and tenon joints provide the strength. And the design and finish create a "look" that's light. Plans start on page 6.

Spice Drawer

A The original idea for this Drawer was to organize spice containers, see page 26. But we found it also holds a cookbook off the counter at a convenient angle.

Wall Storage System

A A pegboard tool rack is a common fixture in many shops. So beginning on page 20, we're showing our version of this versatile storage system. And instead of those little metal hooks that never seem to stay in place, we used another type of common hardware that works much better. Plus, we've added shelves and drawers.
